General Terms and Conditions applying to the Season ticket for the Museum für Naturkunde Berlin

The season ticket for the Museum für Naturkunde Berlin entitles the holder(s) to enter to the Museum für Naturkunde Berlin during official opening hours for a year from the date stated on the ticket. The ticket is not automatically renewed. It is non-transferable. Purchase of a season ticket does not imply that the Museum für Naturkunde Berlin will be open daily during the validity period of the ticket.

The season ticket is not valid for special events outside official opening hours. In addition, the Museum für Naturkunde reserves the right to close the Museum early due to exceptional circumstances around a special event. Holders of season tickets cannot claim compensation in this case.

Family season tickets are special offers available only to the following persons:

Mini family season tickets: parents and children up to age 14 (ID required),

Family season tickets: parents, grandparents and children up to age 14 (ID required).

The season ticket will be issued only after correct completion and signing of the application form.

It is not permitted to pass on season tickets to third parties. The Museum für Naturkunde Berlin reserves the right to withhold season tickets without compensation or cancellation if holders illegally pass on their tickets to third parties or try to manipulate entry procedures.

Lost season tickets must be reported to the Museum für Naturkunde.

Your data will be saved for internal use only and not passed on to third parties.
