

How has your environment changed?

Discover the platform :
www.changing-natures.org

"Changing Natures" is a collaboration between the Museum für Naturkunde Berlin and the Muséum national d'Histoire naturelle in Paris.

What are your memories of nature in the past?

How do you see the human impact on the earth around you?

The natural history museums in Berlin and Paris invite you to help us build a new digital collection.

Tell us your story with the help of an object or a document. It is up to you to decide which stories and observations belong to the collection.

Be part of a research project on personal memories and environmental transformation.

Your object should fulfil 3 criteria:

-  originate from the past
-  have a personal connection to you
-  tell us something about the changes in our environment

OBJECT N°92

AUNT LYDIA COAT

 Munich, Germany, DE

Society, Climate change,
Economic miracle,
Clothing, Sustainability

-  Upload your object and share your story.
-  Find out how people in other places experience environmental change.
-  Comment on or add to other contributions in the collection.